INTRODUCTION

This publication, the thirtieth annual Directory of Officials and Organizations Concerned with the Protection of Birds and Game,¹ is issued for convenient use by game-law enforcement officials, game and bird protection and conservation societies and organizations, and others desiring to procure information concerning game laws and game conditions generally. The purpose of the compilers is to give, as fully as may be, not only the names and addresses of Federal and State officials charged with the protection and conservation of game, but also of all associations and organizations whose activities in that line are national or state-wide in scope. To this end the Bureau of Biological Survey will appreciate information concerning any organizations of state-wide or more extended character that may not be included in this edition, and also any changes as they occur in the personnel of those organizations that are listed.

As in previous editions of the directory, organizations national in character follow the list of Federal officials, and those whose fields are state-wide follow in alphabetic order the names of State officials. Similar arrangement is made of the Dominion and Provincial organizations in Canada.

National organizations added to the directory this year include the National Committee on Wild Life Legislation; the American Forestry Association; the American Nature Association; the Avicultural Society of America; the Association of North Central States Game and Fish Departments; the Eastern, North-eastern, Inland, and Western Bird-Banding Associations; the Cooper Ornithological Club; and the Wilson Ornithological Club; and under the States, the Committee for the Conservation of Wild Animal Life of the California Academy of Sciences and State divisions of the Izaak Walton League of America in Colorado, Georgia, Massachusetts, Oregon, and Washington.

Changes will be noted in the designations of the agencies in charge of the enforcement of State or Provincial game laws in Arizona, Nebraska, and British Columbia.

Persons desiring detailed information concerning the provisions of the game and fish laws of the various States and Provinces should communicate with the game official of those States or Provinces in which interested. The game and fish laws are published in pamphlet form in all States, and summaries of the game and fur laws of the various States and Provinces and of Mexico are published annually by the United States Department of Agriculture in the Farmers' Bulletin series.

The names and addresses of the United States game protectors, who enforce the migratory-bird treaty act and regulations and the Lacey Act, regulating interstate commerce in wild animals or parts thereof, will be found under the heading Federal officials. Information concerning violations of these acts and regulations may be transmitted directly to the protectors or to the Bureau of Biological Survey at Washington.

FEDERAL OFFICIALS

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

[Jurisdiction extended to game by the Lacey Act, approved May 25, 1900, and the migratory-bird treaty act, approved July 3, 1918, both of which are administered by the Bureau of Biological Survey, Washington, D. C.]

The Alaska Game Commission, at Juneau, established under the Alaska game law of January 13, 1925, acts in an advisory capacity to the Secretary of Agriculture in the formulation of regulations for Alaska on game, birds, and land fur-bearing animals, and enforces the law and regulations; the executive officer is the chief representative of the Bureau of Biological Survey resident in Alaska. All Federal game and bird reservations in the Territory are administered through the Biological Survey.

The Forest Service administers the big-game reservations and national monuments under its jurisdiction, and cooperates with Federal and State officials in the enforcement of game laws on the national forests.]
